

Happy Chanukah!
חג חנוכה שמח!

No Really, Why Is Chanukah 8 Days?

By Rabbi Alex Freedman

Every Jewish child knows why we celebrate Chanukah for eight days: because the oil in the Temple Menorah miraculously burned for eight days. But adults should consider that question more deeply: really, why do we light candles for eight nights? After all, the oil was supposed to last for one day, so in truth the miracle was seven days, not eight. If the holiday is about recalling miracles, shouldn't we light for seven?

This astute question was asked and answered by the 16th century Rabbi Joseph Karo. In fact, it triggered such an avalanche of responses that it's known simply as "the Beit Yosef's question."

Here's his own response: on the first night, the entire flask of oil was emptied into the Menorah, which should have enabled the Menorah to be lit for a full day. The next morning, they discovered that none of the oil had actually burned up, and the Menorah was still full even as its flames burned. This same miracle occurred each day. So the first day presented its own miracle as well.

I share the author's desire to identify a miracle on the first day, though I challenge how he somehow knew about this untold part of the story.

I am more persuaded by the idea of the 17th century rabbi known as the Pri Hadash. He says that we celebrate the holiday to commemorate the two miracles together: that of the military victory (one night) and that of the long-lasting oil (seven nights), for a total of eight nights.

I value how this author makes room for the miracle of the few defeating the many. Whereas the miracle of the oil was entirely divine in nature, the Maccabees' victory had a real human element to it.

More recently, the contemporary Rabbi David Wolpe takes this further. He says: "Miracles don't just fall from the heavens; they grow from the human heart. Maybe the real hero of Chanukah was that unknown person who hid the oil somewhere in that destroyed Temple knowing that one day someone would come along and find it. He would kindle a light again that would — with a little help from G-d — turn into a miracle."

For Rabbi Wolpe, the act of lighting the flame expecting it to last only one night was itself a miracle. Remember the vast darkness and destruction in that moment. Something stirred a person to light the Menorah anyway, because maybe, just maybe, something good would follow. That courageous act of human faith despite the surrounding darkness is something we should remember on Chanukah as well, this year and always.

Dedicated to You

By Larry Pachter, President of Beth El | president@nssbethel.org

Chanukah is our holiday associated with dedication — in fact, the translation of the Hebrew word “chanukah” (חנוכה) is “dedication.” I want to refer to two very different meanings of the word “dedication” that are timely.

First, during the first few months of 2026, Beth El will be dedicating our new entry structure as the “Buddy and Bernice Cohen Pavilion,” in recognition of the generosity of the Cohen family, both for the construction of the pavilion and particularly in support of our Cohen Religious School. Watch our website and your emails for details of the Dedication ceremony and stop by to see this new welcoming space that will serve our community so well now and long into the future.

I also want to mention the dedication we see from our clergy and staff in the myriad ways that they serve the synagogue and our community. As I mentioned during the High Holidays, our clergy work together seamlessly to provide us with comfort and joy throughout the year, with daily services and Shabbat and holiday celebrations. Likewise, our staff, both veteran and those who have joined us in the past year, work diligently to keep the building well maintained and safe, and allow us to provide the classes, lectures, movies, concerts and other activities that our community so much enjoy.

Shabbat Shira – Shabbat of Song

By Hazzan Jacob Sandler | jsandler@nssbethel.org

One of the musical highlights of the Torah reading cycle is Parashat Beshallah. It depicts the epic climax of the Exodus narrative and the crossing of the Sea of Reeds. With the newly freed Israelites on the other side, they break out into a song called Shirat HaYam, the Song of the Sea. The Haftarah contains the Song of Deborah and the whole Shabbat is dubbed Shabbat Shira — Shabbat of Song.

One might think I would add more melodies to the service. But here's the challenge: the Torah and Haftarah readings are long and, as I always say, “Tuna by 12:00 pm” is the Hazzan Sandler guarantee. So what can I do? Here are three things to look out for:

1. I'll be honored to deliver the sermon that morning. It may be musical, but it's sure to be a special moment regardless.
2. I'll add music to Friday night! I always schedule a Rinat Shabbat service for erev Shabbat Shira. With many catchy melodies, a davening team adding harmony and ruach, it's sure to be a Shabbat of Song from the very start.
3. I'll bring more singing throughout Shabbat. During/after Kiddush, we can gather and sing zemirot, and I'll be sure to do extra singing between mincha and ma'ariv.

Some years, I've brought in extra musicians to help add harmony and joy to our prayers without adding extra time as well. While I haven't planned that yet, I hope everyone will join us January 30-31, 2026, for Shabbat Shira!

“Level Up: Shabbat Edition”

By Hazzan Jenna Greenberg, Ritual Director | jgreenberg@nssbethel.org

We have a wonderful Shabbat program at Beth El, as many of you already know, where our kids can enhance their synagogue skills at Junior Congregation! At 10:30 am each Shabbat (and holiday) morning, please join us in the Sager Beit Midrash, as we celebrate this year's theme together each week: “Level Up: Shabbat Edition!”

All NSS Beth El kids are invited (CRS and Day School students in grades 2 through 6):

- Attend 4 times: earn a clicker fidget
- Attend 8 times: earn a mini travel game
- Attend 12 times: earn a transformer or trucker hat
- Attend 18 times: THAT'S CHAI! Live it up on a Game Truck right here at Beth El on Sunday, May 3, 2026, 12:00–2:00pm (Lunch included! More details to come...)

You will have opportunities to lead parts of the service and even to read from the Torah...earning even our youngest readers a delicious Team Torah cookie!

If you have received your B'nai Mitzvah date and would like to read a little bit of your parsha in the years leading up to your simcha, you can practice it in Junior Congregation!

If you are a day school student with a weekday portion you have been learning, please let me know if you are available to read the Shabbat following your reading at school!

If you are a CRS student who would like to take on a Torah reading, please reach out and I would be more than happy to prepare materials and work with you!

In November, we launched our 3rd year of “Junior Team Torah: Little League Edition,” a class where several of our 4th through 6th graders, CRS and Day School students alike, are learning how to chant Torah. What a great skill to bring to Junior Congregation, their B'nai Mitzvah, and beyond!

AND IF YOU HAVE A HIGH SCHOOLER who would like to join me as a Madrich/Madricha, their help allows parents to either join their children at Junior Congregation or drop their kids off and attend the sanctuary service or Tot Shabbat if there are younger siblings.

I look forward to welcoming you all to join me at Junior Congregation this year, as we bring Shabbat to a whole new “level”!

RITUAL

Reading in the Margins

I am sure it happens to all of us, especially as we pray the same prayers week in-week out, in services whether it be Shabbat morning or weekday minyan. Our minds wander outside of the prayer printed on the page. We may think of our friends, families, weekday occupations, or maybe we engage in conversation with other congregants to discuss any of these topics. Most certainly, this happens during the recent Tishrei holidays as well.

I encourage you, when your mind wanders, to consider another way to occupy your mind; almost every page of our Lev Shalem Siddur and Machzor includes a poem or reading that somehow correlates with the prayer on the page. In some cases, these readings outline the practices around this prayer. This is present on the pages with Aleinu, for example. On other pages, there are readings that might help you in your Jewish journey. I know that, for me, there are readings that justify my questions or confusion about observance. They really “get me.”

In the pages of Yizkor there is a reading about a parent who was hurtful; I read this every time we recite Yizkor. My relationship with my father was ok, but not without its issues. This reading helps me justify the mixed emotions that I have. This is just one example of a reading in the margin that I habitually read.

During Shabbat Mincha, I frequently read two that discuss Shabbat rest as more than a cessation of work and another about the Jewish journey that we are all on.

So please, as your mind wanders from time to time, review the margins in our Siddurim and Machzorim to find something that reconnects you with prayer.

CONGREGATIONAL LEARNING

By Aliza Drumm, Director of Congregational Learning | adrumm@nssbethel.org

Integrating Prayer Learning during the Tishrei Holidays

In our Children's High Holiday Services, we strive to engage students in active, meaningful learning during the holiday season — while also helping them gradually become comfortable and confident adult participants in religious life. This year, we expanded our efforts by introducing a new music and tefillah course, in addition to the services and activities we already provide at each grade level.

In consultation with Hazzan Sandler, we identified the core prayers that the congregation most frequently joins in during services and explored the best ways to integrate these into our curriculum. Clara Berman, a music teacher in District 46, collaborated with us to design and implement this new component, which supports and enhances the tefillah experiences already led by our classroom teachers.

Our tefillah education begins with our youngest learners in the Preschool Family Services, led by Ellie Goldsmith, Assistant Director of Young Family Programming. In age-appropriate ways, children and families are introduced to the basics of High Holiday nusach, special tefillot, and central themes — all woven into an engaging, joyful experience that involves the whole family.

This integration of prayer and holiday learning continues throughout the Tishrei season. In both the preschool and religious school, the themes of Sukkot and Simchat Torah are seamlessly woven into the broader curriculum. Students of all ages interact with both real and stuffed lulavim and etrogim, visit and decorate the sukkah, and explore themes of fragility, stability, and hospitality. Each grade also has the opportunity to encounter the Torah alongside teachers and clergy as they prepare to celebrate Simchat Torah. We offer a Young Family Simchat Torah program that eases families into the congregational hakafot with sweetness — quite literally — as children make their own candy Torahs to mark the joy of the holiday.

We continue to share that sweetness as we gather around the Torah itself, with a pasul (non-kosher) scroll that is fully unrolled on Simchat Torah. Together, our community is enveloped in its words while our rabbis guide us through some of the most special parshiot in the Torah.

In every song, story, and prayer, our students discover that tradition is not just remembered — it is lived.

THE STEINBERG PRESCHOOL

By Leah Mindell and Allison Hellberg, Steinberg Preschool Parent Auxiliary Committee Co-Chairs

A Message from the Steinberg Preschool Parent Auxiliary Co-Chairs

Shalom, Beth El members! We're Leah Mindell and Allison Hellberg, and for the past two years we've had the joy of serving as co-chairs of the Steinberg Preschool Parent Auxiliary Committee. Together, we've planned meaningful programs, organized volunteer opportunities, and led a variety of parent initiatives that strengthen our preschool community. We're excited to share some of the ways our Preschool gives back — both within our school and to the greater Jewish community.

#1 Scholastic Book Fair & Special Friends Shabbat

Each year, during the week of Special Friends Shabbat, we host our incredibly successful Scholastic Book Fair. It's always a joy to see our preschoolers eagerly browsing the shelves, their faces lighting up with excitement as they discover new stories to read.

This beloved event is organized entirely by our amazing Parent Auxiliary Committee, which helps raise nearly $5,000 each year! We celebrate the end of a wonderful and rewarding Book Fair at our annual Special Friends Shabbat — a morning filled with warmth, love, and connection. Grandparents and special friends join their little ones to sing Shabbat songs, share snacks, and create Shabbat-themed crafts together. It's truly one of our most cherished preschool traditions.

#2 A Morning of Yoga & Giving Back

In December, the Parent Auxiliary hosted a special morning of yoga, coffee, and pastries, led by Robin Taxman. Last year, the funds raised from this community-centered event helped us purchase six new bikes for our preschool playground! We love partnering with Robin for this Parent Auxiliary-led fundraiser and look forward to hosting more yoga mornings in the future.

#3 Partnering with Chesed Chicago

As in years past, we're proud to continue our partnership with Chesed Chicago, an incredible organization based in Lincolnwood, IL, that provides families in need with home furnishings, clothing, groceries, and more. We deeply value this long-standing relationship and look forward to collaborating with them each year.

This year's Chanukah toy drive with Chesed Chicago was especially meaningful. Our preschool hallway was overflowing with donations — games, puzzles, imaginative play items, and more! Thanks to our generous families, Chesed's shelves will be filled with wonderful gifts for families to enjoy this Chanukah season.

Of course, Chanukah wouldn't be complete without our annual Parent Auxiliary volunteer morning at Chesed's Lincolnwood location. Our volunteers spent a meaningful morning sorting and organizing donations — a special opportunity to give back to our community and a tradition that always fills our hearts.

#4 Still to Come this Winter and Spring

The winter and early spring are always filled with exciting events and activities in the Steinberg Preschool! This winter, the Parent Auxiliary will be collecting costumes to donate to Chesed Chicago as part of a Purim community service project. The costume drive will be followed by a second opportunity for preschool parents to volunteer and spend a meaningful morning at Chesed to help organize and sort donations before Purim.

The Shema Pajama Party is always a fun time for all! With fun crafts, music and dinner, our preschool children love to come to the synagogue in their pajamas and enjoy a fun night with their teachers and friends. As a way to continue our mission of giving back, the Parent Auxiliary partners with Chesed Chicago by collecting pajamas and stuffed animals to donate to those in need.

#5 Tu B'Shevat Forest Comes to Life

Every year for Tu B'Shevat, the Parent Auxiliary partners with our preschool teachers to transform the Grossinger Brickman room into a magical forest! Throughout the past few years, the transformation has grown more and more creative — including ceiling to floor decorations! — and features art projects from every child. The preschool parent community comes together to make this week a special time for our children, fostering their imagination and connection to the holiday. If you are in the synagogue during Tu B'Shevat, we invite you to join us in the forest for story or snack time!

Thank you for reading our article and having an interest in our thriving preschool community. Whether you're attending events, contributing to our collection drives or simply staying informed — your interest makes a difference! Please reach out with any ideas or questions!

Raising Lamplighters

Chanukah reminds us that, even in times of darkness, we find ways to bring light through courage, kindness, and perseverance. We stand up for what's right and keep hope alive, even when the odds feel impossible.

Today, Israel continues to show us that even a small flame can make a big difference through innovation, community, and acts of compassion. Each generation has found ways to turn challenge into hope, echoing the message of Chanukah — faith and courage can transform even the darkest of times.

At CRS, we strive to help our students recognize their own light and discover how they can share it with others. We talk about what it means to bring light into the world. Here are some ways CRS students are lamplighters.

Showing Courage:

- CRS students stand up for someone who feels lonely or needs support.
- CRS students are learning about Jewish heroes who used bravery to make change.

Show Compassion:

- CRS students perform mitzvot that bring comfort: write cards for HAZAK, help food collections for the ARK and Moraine Township Thanksgiving meal baskets.
- CRS students support Israeli organizations that helps others, like Save a Child's Heart, Leket Israel, or Shalva.

Build Hope:

- CRS students sing tefillot for peace and Israel — Oseh Shalom, Avinu She'bashamayim — each week.

CRS students are lamplighters. Their actions matter. Their spark — words of kindness, moments of courage — add light to our community, to Israel, and to the world.

YOUNG FAMILY PROGRAMMING

Finding Friends at Beth El

Recently I watched a reel in which a mom was describing how easy it was for her son to make friends. He employed pick-up lines like, “Hey, do you like bubbles?” and “How you feel about chocolate milk?” For many of us adults, it's a little harder to connect.

The mom asked for pick-up lines adults could use to make friends. Commenters suggested “What's your favorite food to sneak into a movie theater?” and “So, hey, were Ross and Rachel on a break?”

I have some different suggestions that will help you leverage your connection to Beth El as you search for friends. And I'm guessing you might be looking for friends, as 77% of respondents to a Study of Jewish Families with Young Children in Chicago (Rosen, 2013) indicated that they were looking to develop new friendships. Ellie Goldsmith, our

Assistant Director of Young Family Programming, has been leading Tot Shabbat for years, but is now taking Tot Shabbat to a whole new level with a team of leaders — adults and teens — and exciting new ways to share stories and make new friends. Try the pick-up line “What are you doing next Saturday at 11am? Wanna join me at Tot Shabbat? I hear there are cookies.”

As the Director of Young Family Programming, I'm playing with old and new ways to find friends. Did you get to build with us at Jeans & Jammies last month? Even if you missed it, you can join us as we gather on Thursday, February 5. Choose your pick-up line: “What are you wearing to Jeans & Jammies?” or “What's the vibe for a Thursday Jeans & Jammies?” or simply “Want to join me at Jeans & Jammies?”

In the meantime, here's a timely pick-up line: “Do you have a good recipe for latkes? Wanna come over and make them together?”

DEVELOPMENT

By Jacob Markey, Director of Development | jmarkey@nssbethel.org

“Just as my ancestors planted for me, I too am planting for my descendants.”

(Talmud, Taanit 23a)

The Ner Tamid Society is Beth El's legacy giving society. By including Beth El in your will or estate plans, you strengthen the synagogue and ensure that your legacy remains for generations to come. Below, Mira and Darryl Temkin share why they joined Ner Tamid Society.

Why did you decide to join Ner Tamid Society and leave a legacy gift specifically to Beth El?

We've been members of Beth El for more than 40 years. Our children grew up here at preschool, Hebrew School and Hebrew High School. We celebrated their Bar/Bat Mitzvahs on this bimah. Darryl davens here every morning, supporting the minyan. We've been active members, volunteering in many capacities as leaders of this community. We attend Shabbat and Yom Tov services regularly and our grandson participates in Junior Congregation. He's the 9-year old with the wild hair who loves to lead Ein Keloheinu. Beth El is our second home. We wanted to ensure the future of Beth El by leaving this lasting legacy.

What have been the benefits to you for joining Ner Tamid Society?

It brings us a great sense of pride in knowing we're contributing to the future of Beth El for generations to come. As it says in Pirkei Avot, “You are not required to finish your work, yet neither are you permitted to desist from it.”

Why is it important for congregants to join Ner Tamid Society?

It's critical for Beth El's continued success for members to demonstrate their financial commitment. You'll derive great satisfaction by knowing you're a part of Beth El's present and future. L'dor V'dor!

How easy was the process of joining Ner Tamid Society?

When we made the decision to become a part of the Ner Tamid Society, we updated our wills to include Beth El in our estate.

For more information about Ner Tamid Society or to join, please contact Jacob Markey, Beth El's Director of Development, at jmarkey@nssbethel.org.

Buddy and Bernice Cohen: A Lifetime of Connection, A Legacy of Giving

Beth El is excited to announce a nearly $1 million gift from siblings Bruce, Jack, and Michael Cohen, and Julie (Cohen) Podziba, to Beth El and The Jack and Mildred Cohen Religious School (CRS), in honor of their parents Benjamin “Buddy” and Bernice Cohen, (z”l). In recognition of this extraordinary gift, the new pavilion under construction will be named the Benjamin and Bernice Cohen Pavilion.

Buddy and Bernice joined Beth El in 1960 and remained active for over six decades, even after they moved full time to Palm Springs, California. The family celebrated holidays and many life cycle events at Beth El, and each of the kids attended the religious school and became a Bar or Bat Mitzvah at Beth El.

While Buddy and Bernice were active members of the community since they joined, their participation became transformative in December of 1986, when they made a generous gift to the religious school, subsequently named The Jack and Mildred Cohen Religious School, in honor of Buddy's parents. Buddy and Bernice additionally provided meaningful ongoing annual support through Buddy's passing in February of 2023.

“Religious education was always important to my parents. I had always hoped I would have the opportunity to do something similar,” Buddy explained to our congregation in January 2000. According to Bruce, Buddy and Bernice met regularly with synagogue leadership, which was reflective of the depth of their engagement and their continued passion for the work being done.

This new commitment from Buddy and Bernice's children reflects their desire to maintain Buddy and Bernice's legacy of giving and commitment to Jewish education. This gift is nothing short of transformational. As part of the larger Mitzvah613 Project, it allows us to renovate our school building, create a new, secure entrance to the synagogue, school, and administrative areas, and provide funding to maintain and strengthen CRS. Generations of Jewish children have been positively impacted due to the financial support of Buddy and Bernice. Generations more will continue to receive a positive and transformational experience that strengthens Jewish identity and transmits Jewish values and traditions l'dor v'dor, from generation to generation. This gift bolsters Beth El's ability to apply best practices in teaching and education and to provide scholarships for families in need, ensuring that every child receives a strong and meaningful Jewish education.

“Beth El is honored to accept this gift from the Cohen Family. Following in their parents' footsteps, their generosity will allow future generations to experience the benefits of the Cohen Religious School,” stated Rabbi Michael Schwab. “Buddy and I would speak on a regular basis by phone after he moved to California. He always wanted to know about the Cohen Religious School and asked specific questions about enrollment, curriculum, and more on every call. He was a personal support to me and had a special place for Beth El in his heart.”

“Our parents had great faith in the congregation's leadership, both staff and lay, and the depth and passion of its community, something we affirmed before making this commitment,” said Bruce Cohen. “Beth El always served as our family's religious and spiritual home and a place of immense joy and comfort to our parents. The Jack and Mildred Cohen Religious School was a source of pride to our family, reflecting Buddy's desire to honor his parents and demonstrate their commitment to Jewish education. We are grateful for the opportunity to sustain our family's support for Beth El and the Cohen Religious School and to recognize our parents as Buddy and Bernice did for his.”

Beth El is eternally grateful to the Cohen Family for their generations of giving. We look forward to celebrating Buddy and Bernice, the entire Cohen Family, and the rest of the donors to the Mitzvah613 Project in the months to come, with the completion of the renovations to our building and the dedication of our updated space.

Illuminating Connection: Chanukah at the Heart of our Community

Chanukah is more than a celebration of light; it is an opportunity to kindle connection and conversation. Each night of the festival reminds us that even a small flame can dispel great darkness and the right words can be meaningful to those looking for kinship. In the same way, every act of community, whether lighting the menorah together, sharing latkes, or singing blessings, strengthens the bonds that hold us as part of Beth El's mishpacha.

Chanukah invites us to reflect on resilience and renewal, which have been tested, again and again, throughout our history and certainly, more recently. The story of the Maccabees is one of courage and faith, and today we honor that legacy by creating spaces where every member feels seen, valued, and inspired.

Whether it is Young Family Jean & Jammies, congregational Challa-kiah making or a multigenerational Six13 concert and dinners, our programming is created to bring people together in meaningful ways.

During this time when it is cold and gets dark early, we are not just commemorating miracles—we are cultivating them. Consider joining one of our board committees, taking a continuing education class or helping organize a congregational dinner. Be involved in the miracle and joy of belonging to Beth El.

May the lights of Chanukah shine brightly in our homes and hearts, and may they guide us toward deeper engagement and a vibrant Jewish future. Chag Sameach!

Community Commemorates Two Years Since October 7th Attack

On October 5, Beth El partnered with The Shamash to host a powerful community-wide vigil marking two years since the October 7, 2023, attack on Israel. Hundreds from the North Shore gathered to honor over 1,200 victims and demand the release of remaining hostages.

Speakers included U.S. Congressman Brad Schneider, Highland Park Mayor Nancy Rotering, and State Representative Bob Morgan. Clergy from Beth El and neighboring congregations united on the bimah to sing Matisyahu's "One Day," symbolizing hope and unity.

Jen Deutch, a long-time Beth El member, shared, "As a Jewish people, we've suffered deeply. Antisemitism is a growing reality, and the world has been silent. This gathering was a moment of grief, solidarity, and hope."

Jorie Sigesmund, founding member of The Shamash, reflected, "This event echoed our first vigil held 30 days after the attack. It showed the enduring strength and love of Jews in the diaspora, who will never again take our connection to Israel for granted."

Just days later, the remaining living hostages were released. An impromptu celebration took place in downtown Highland Park, where the daily hostage count was replaced with the word "HOME." Participants sang Hatikvah, danced, recited Shehechyanu, and prayed for the return of those still missing.

A Decade of Reading Together: The Beth El Family Book Club Turns 10!

Ten years ago, synagogue leadership challenged departments that rarely collaborate to create a joint program. The Gray Cultural & Learning Center partnered with the Youth Community and the Beth El Family Book Club was born! Since 2016, religious school and day school families have joined members of the Sisterhood Torah Fund Book Club to read and discuss a middle grade novel together. Most years, we've even had the privilege of meeting the author in person or via Zoom, adding a special dimension to this beloved multi-generational program.

As one participant shared, "It was special to meet the author and talk to her. I was so impressed by the Beth El students - the questions they asked and their attentive behavior." A parent added that the Family Book Club has been "a highlight of our Beth El experience."

Our 10th annual Family Book Club will be held on Sunday, January 25 at 12:00 pm, immediately following Religious School. After lunch, we'll discuss Don't Feed the Lion* by Bianna Golodryga and Yonit Levi, a new novel about three Chicago middle schoolers who confront bullying and bigotry after a swastika appears on a locker and a professional athlete posts an anti-Semitic message online.

Whether or not you have children or grandchildren, I encourage you to read at least one children's book each year. It will be a guaranteed shot of happiness and optimism! For the Family Book Club, children must attend with an adult but adults do not need to be accompanied by a child! Every 3rd-6th grade family that RSVPs will receive a free copy of Don't Feed the Lion (while supplies last). Contact rkamin@nssbethel.org to reserve yours.

TAKE A CLASS THIS WINTER!

The Gertrude Lederman Family Continuing Education courses at North Suburban Synagogue Beth El offer a wonderful chance to deepen your understanding of Jewish thought, culture, and identity. New winter classes will start in January. Visit the Continuing Education page on the Beth El website for more information about all of our offerings. Questions? Beth El Event Showcase: Meet the Author – Allison Epstein

From the Archives: Beth El's Senior Rabbis By Morton Steinberg

This is the fifth in a series of mini-biographies of the individuals who have served as senior rabbi at North Suburban Synagogue Beth El.

Vernon H. Kurtz (1988–2019)

Vernon Howard Kurtz was born in 1951 in Toronto, Canada. Raised in an observant family in the Bathurst Manor neighborhood of the city, he attended Jewish day schools through high school. During his college years at York University, he spent three summers as a counselor at Camp Ramah in Canada and served as the youth director at Beth Tikvah Synagogue, a Conservative congregation. He graduated college with a B.A. degree in 1971 and applied to and was accepted at the law school of Western University in London, Ontario. But with a strong Zionist inclination, he first spent a year studying at the Hebrew University and the Schechter school in Jerusalem, an experience which convinced him to forego law and enroll in the rabbinical school of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York. He was awarded a masters degree in 1973, the same year that he married Bryna Wise. Rabbinical ordination followed in 1976 and for the next twelve years Kurtz served as a rabbi at Congregation Rodfei Zedek in Chicago's Hyde Park neighborhood. While there he studied at the Chicago Theological Seminary, earning the degree of Doctor of Ministry in 1981. Twenty years later he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity (Honoris Causa) by The Jewish Theological Seminary.

Soon after the departure of Rabbi William Lebeau from Beth El in 1987, the synagogue's Rabbinic Search Committee unanimously recommended calling Kurtz to serve as the synagogue's fifth senior rabbi. He and Bryna and their two daughters, Hadassa and Shira, moved to Highland Park in the summer of 1988. They would become United States citizens in 1995. Soon after arriving at Beth El Kurtz shared a "State of the Synagogue Report" with the congregation, setting forth his concept of the "three basic ideals" uniting all congregants: a caring community, shared communal values, and shared institutional goals. These would shape his personal goal of maintaining and strengthening the synagogue "as a Beth El, a House of God." And Kurtz pursued this goal throughout his tenure at Beth El, enhancing youth and family programming, adult educational programs, and establishing the synagogue's own Hebrew high school program. He was a regular at the daily minyanim and, after much studying with the Ritual Committee, he expanded the role of women in the synagogue's ritual and introduced Birkat Kohanim to the High Holiday and Festival services. And he encouraged and participated in the very successful Guaranteeing Our Future capital campaign.

Kurtz excelled as a teacher, not only within the congregation but also as an assistant professor of Rabbinic Literature at the Spertus Institute in Chicago. He wrote extensively on religious topics: for many years he authored a monthly Torah commentary for the Chicago Jewish News; in 2013 his book, Encountering Torah: Reflections on the Weekly Portion, was published and distributed to the entire membership of Beth El; and when the Rabbinical Assembly undertook publishing an extensive volume on Jewish law and customs, The Observant Life: The Wisdom of Conservative Judaism, Kurtz authored the section on Civil Morality.

Due in large part to his extensive leadership roles, Beth El became recognized as one of the country's leading Conservative congregations.

Kurtz also saw providing leadership to community and professional organizations as an important part of his rabbinate. Among the many roles assumed by him during his tenure at Beth El were president of the Chicago Board of Rabbis, president of Masorti Olami, president of the American Zionist Movement, president of the international Rabbinical Assembly, and service as a member of the Board of Governors of the Jewish Agency in Israel. He served for many years on the Rabbinical Assembly's Committee on Jewish Law and Standards, writing many teshuvot, legal opinions on issues of Jewish law, and he also fulfilled numerous leadership roles at the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago. Although he received many honors from organizations recognizing his service, the one he appreciated the most, and the only one now displayed in his home, is the Julius Rosenwald Award from the Jewish Federation, recognizing his many years of extensive community leadership.

During his tenure at Beth El, Kurtz earned the respect and appreciation of his congregation, and he forged close personal friendships with many congregants. Due in large part to his extensive leadership roles, Beth El became recognized as one of the country's leading Conservative congregations. In late 2018, on the cusp of Kurtz's retirement, the congregation held a gala dual celebration of its 70th anniversary and of the rabbi's thirty-one years as its senior rabbi, designating him as Rabbi Emeritus and wishing him and Bryna well as they departed Beth El and made aliyah to Israel.

Today Rabbi Kurtz and Bryna reside in their home on Ein Gedi Street in the Talpiot neighborhood of Jerusalem. He serves on the board of the Fuchsberg Center for Conservative Judaism and continues to teach, via Zoom, for the Spertus Institute and at the Schechter Institute in Jerusalem, as well as providing Beth El congregants with occasional live-stream adult education classes. And he spends as much time as possible with his grandchildren.

Rabbi Kurtz greets the congregation in 1988, soon after being called to serve at Beth El.

What Exactly Does HAZAK Do?

When we encounter someone asking this question, we are thrilled to share the amazing ways the HAZAK committee, and our dedicated volunteers, act as ambassadors of kindness in and for the Beth El community. We strive to bring a ray of sunshine, a thoughtful word, a helping hand or a show of concern into the lives of our members. These are some of the ways we accomplish our goal:

Food

Since June of 2020, with the help of various vendors and chefs, we have been fortunate to provide over 720 individual meals to our community. Shabbat or Yom Tov meals are provided for someone who is recovering from surgery, illness, unable to cook for themselves, or going through a rough patch. As one recipient remarked, "Food is Love!"

Exercise

Equally as important as providing sustenance, HAZAK offers free physical strengthening sessions twice a month via our Core, Balance & Stability classes, facilitated by Gina Pecucci, Certified Senior Fitness Specialist. Attendees participate at their own level and speed, using simple, easy modifications Gina provides. The camaraderie is palpable and enjoyable. Come join us!

Bikkur Cholim

We send Refuah Shlemah cards to members who are ill or recovering from surgery. The rabbis also phone our congregants to check on them and let them know they are thinking of them.

Programs

Our committee plans interesting programs for members, such as topical movies with discussion, holiday celebrations, speakers and more. These programs provide extra socialization for members and stimulating, fun events to participate in.

All of this, and more, would not be possible without the generosity of the Leonard and Diane Sherman Family Foundation. For that we are grateful.

If you are interested in learning more about how you can contribute and help brighten the lives of seniors, contact us at: Mary Ellen Bowers Goldsmith, eyerishmar@comcast.net, or Jackie Melinger, jackiemelinger@gmail.com.

Take Action With Us: Social Action Committee Updates!

Thank you to everyone for making SAC's Fall 2025 initiatives a huge success! We had a busy fall with the following SAC-sponsored initiatives:

Pack the Pantry to benefit The Ark. We overfilled the bin during the high holidays with generous donations of kosher food, household essentials, and personal care items. You helped countless people in the Chicagoland Jewish community.

Thanksgiving Mitzvah Project was widely successful thanks to Beth El members of all ages who shopped for, made, and donated beautiful Thanksgiving baskets to benefit families from Glenwood School in Waukegan and Moraine Township Food Pantry.

Chesed Coat Drive. Once again, the Beth El community generously donated gently used winter coats and outerwear to benefit Chesed Chicago.

SAC is busy planning for our annual Spring Mitzvah Day.

Annual Mitzvah Day
Sunday, April 19, 2026
10:00 am – Noon

Join your Beth El family and friends for a day dedicated to giving, doing, and getting so much more in return! We will partner with local and global organizations to make blankets for children, care packages for the elderly, food collections for our local food pantry, and many other collection efforts and craft projects to raise awareness for mental health. There will be many other collections and projects to choose from. Stay tuned for more details and opportunities to get involved.

We're always looking for volunteers. Interested in joining the Social Action Committee? Email Marlene Halpern at socialaction@nssbethel.org.

Sukkot Sunshine & Sisterhood Smiles

We couldn't have asked for better weather this past Sukkot! Sunshine, good vibes, and amazing company made our Sweets in the Sukkah program such a treat. The Miles Ury Quartet set the perfect mood for dancing, schmoozing, and even a lively round of Name That Tune, while everyone enjoyed goodies baked in the synagogue kitchen by our Sisterhood women and wrote heartfelt notes to our soldiers in Israel.

A huge thank-you to Randi Heichman, Ellen Krumbein, Suzie Lampert, and Chantal Blaustein for all their planning, cooking, and creative “styling” of the Sukkah—you made it look (and taste!) wonderful.

While the warm weather may be behind us, the smiles and connections will last all seasons. It might be cold outside, but it's always warm at NSSBE Sisterhood events! Check out the calendar for what's coming up in December, January, and February—and take a moment to think about what Sisterhood really means here.

It's that friendly face when you walk into shul, the call from someone checking in after a rough day, the friend who celebrates your good news, and a group of women who love learning, giving back, and laughing together.

If you have ideas for a Sisterhood event, a Tikkun Olam project or something to share, please contact either Elizabeth Ury or Jamie Pestine at sisterhood@nssbethel.org.

Men's Club Kicks Off the Season!

Men's Club kicked off the season with our Annual Steak and Scotch event, with over 95 men attending, tasting different libations, and enjoying the evening's menu. We were honored to recognize the service of our previous board and install our new VPs — all under a starry sky. Thank you to everyone who helped make this such a successful event, especially Brian Jacobson, Avram Pachter, and Aaron Krumbein.

We continued with our annual Sukkot Pizza in the Hut and Football Watch Party. The weather cooperated, as more than 40 members, including many new faces, enjoyed pizza and camaraderie while watching Sunday Night Football. Many thanks to Jori Brajer and Brian Jacobson for their efforts.

As we look ahead to the winter, we have exciting Bagels for Your Brains programs scheduled — check your calendar and announcements for speakers and topics. Our next joint program with Sisterhood, Winter Ballroom Dancing, will take place on January 24.

And as always, join us on Super Bowl Sunday, February 8, for the annual World-Wide Wrap XXV, followed by a Torah Study led by one of our esteemed members.

Keep an eye out for more information on upcoming events in the Men's Club weekly email and the Kol Beth El bulletin.

If you're interested in learning more about Men's Club or have comments or program ideas, please contact me or any of the Men's Club Board members. Hoping to see you soon!
